Ticket Information:

SOC 2600 Introduction to Social Problems was changed from an institutionally developed course to a state standard course. Changes were made by instructors/administrators from Gwinnett Technical College (who originally developed the course), Chattahoochee Technical College, and GA Northwestern Technical College. The changes to the course did not change the content of the course but changed the standards so they are in line with the way the course is being taught. At the February 2017 PSYC SOC 2600 EMPL IFCC, there was discussion about SOC 2600 being changed from institutionally developed to state standard and those interested in assisting with the review of the course were asked to let Benita Moore know. Benita worked with the representatives to get the changes made.
